

Early Career Microbiologists' Forum Executive Committee

1. Terms of Reference

Purpose: Reporting to Council, the Early Career Microbiologists' Forum Executive Committee is responsible for coordinating the work of the Early Career Microbiologists' Forum to support the Society's three main strategic objectives:

- 1. We will enable our members to strengthen their existing relationships and gain access to new communities, unlocking the potential for knowledge exchange.*
- 1. We will advance understanding of microbiology and champion the contribution made by microbiology, our members and their work in addressing global challenges.*
- 2. We will reinforce the Society's long-term sustainability and resilience by diversifying income streams, increasing efficiency and ensuring robust governance.*

The Committee will ensure that early career members and their views are included in the design and development of Society activities to advance careers in microbiology. The Committee will work with staff to ensure that the activities delivered are in line with the agreed strategy and budget.

The Society is committed to creating an inclusive culture that supports equality and diversity and fully reflects both its membership and the global microbiology community across all protected characteristics. The Society seeks to actively encourage all practices that reflect a diverse society.

By participating in Committee meetings, all Committee members agree to respect other members' opinions and give all present a chance to contribute. The co-Chair/Chair is responsible for running the meeting, please support them to keep to time. Certain topics discussed will be confidential, therefore Committee members are asked to be mindful not to repeat such information outside of the meeting.

2. Duties

The ECM Forum Executive Committee will advise, oversee and support the implementation of the following:

- 1. Work with Committees, Divisions and relevant staff members to ensure the full conferences programme and the Annual Conference in particular is relevant and attractive to early career microbiologists, with a view to progressing to opportunities for the ECM Forum to organise sessions at the Conference and specific meetings throughout the year.*
- 3. Work with relevant Committees and staff members to devise a professional development programme that is relevant for early career microbiologists within an academic setting, clinical and health-related, and industry to enhance their careers.*

4. Engage with relevant Committees and staff members to help to develop careers information for early career microbiologists and provide guidance on where the Society can add value.
5. Provide a contact point for student microbiology societies to bring them into the Society and form a young microbiologist network.
6. Work with staff to have an ECM Forum feature in Microbiology Today, ECM Forum newsletter, and a presence on the website to share information on activities and opportunities.
7. Work with staff to ensure that early career microbiologist members are able to engage with the Society, are supported as they continue their journey as members of the Society and can get involved with other Committees at the Society to drive its future trajectory.
8. Ensure there is close collaboration with other Committees and organisations on areas of common interest.
9. Ensure relevant advice and recommendations are properly reported to Council.

3. Meeting schedule

The Executive Committee will meet at least twice a year in person in February and September.

Between the February meeting and June, the General Secretary will Chair a meeting of the General Secretary's Group, which consists of the two co-Chairs from each of the activity Committees and the Chair of the Early Career Microbiologists' Forum Executive Committee. Members of the General Secretary's Group will be required to report back on their respective Committees, feed into budget proposals and produce a single Equality Diversity and Inclusion report for consideration at the July meeting of Council.

Between October and December, the General Secretary will Chair a meeting of the General Secretary's Group, which consists of the two co-Chairs from each of the activity Committees and the Chair of the Early Career Microbiologists' Forum Executive Committee. Members of the General Secretary's Group will be required to report back on their respective Committees and present an annual report of Committee business to the December meeting of Council.

In addition, the Committee will transact its business between meetings by email and other communications to ensure sufficient reporting mechanisms to Council.

The Executive Committee will observe/contribute to the Society's other committees as required, with the relevant committee members attending committee meetings as follows:

- Chair; to attend Council.
- A Building Communities Representative; to attend Building Communities Committee.
