

ENHANCE YOUR CAREER AND INFLUENCE THE SOCIETY

If you're an Early Career Microbiologist, join the ECM Forum – a community to help you influence the work of the Society and build your professional profile.

As well as the benefits of being a Microbiology Society member, you'll have access to a growing number of exclusive opportunities aimed at bringing ECMs together and giving you the skills to develop your career.

Apply for sponsorship of your own local event to build a network of ECMs.

Gain vital experience through our Annual Conference co-chairing scheme or become a Microbiology Society grant reviewer.

Represent fellow ECM Forum members on the Executive Committee, and help guide the direction of the Society's work.

Join the community and meet other ECMs when you present at our exclusive Summer Conference.
